

- The lust for blood is evil. It has led to horrible crimes. Killing animals and people for their “energy” is wicked as well as criminal.
- Sex magic is filthy and gross beyond words and involves child abuse, bestiality, sodomy, etc. You will never have a normal satisfying sex life once you debase yourself in sex magic.
- While there is a lot of hate and lust in magic, there is no love. If you leave or reveal the secrets, they will try to kill you. There is no forgiveness, comfort or salvation in magic. It has no Saviour or God who loves and cares for you. The occult is lonely, sad, cold and sterile.
- The Bible says that the true power behind the magical arts is Satan. Those who deny this are the dupes of the devil.

What Must I Do to Be Saved?

You have broken God’s Holy Law, His Ten Commandments (Exodus, chapter 20). If you will be honest with yourself, you have lied, stolen, and coveted, and by doing all these things, you have dishonored your father and mother. And if you will be even more honest with yourself, you have broken all the others, too.

You’ve got a problem, my friend. And it’s a serious problem, because the penalty for breaking God’s Law is death, and not just physical death. The penalty is eternal death, separation from God in a place that you really don’t want to go to. But there’s some good news. In fact, it’s great news. That eternal penalty has already been paid. God Himself paid it and paved the road for our salvation through Jesus Christ.

The Bible Condemns Witchcraft in All Forms

There shall not be found among you any one who burns his son or his daughter as an offering, any one who practices divination, a soothsayer, or an augur, or a sorcerer, or a charmer, or a medium, or a wizard, or a necromancer. For whoever does these things is an abomination to The Lord; and because of these abominable practices The Lord your God is driving them out before you. — Deuteronomy 18:10-13

The pentagram you wear and all your other magical charms shows that you believe in the power of magic. Perhaps you have attended a Wiccan gathering or you have participated in magic rituals. Have you “drawn down the moon” yet? Have you ever felt a power come upon you? Do you worship a particular goddess? Have you been initiated? Do you have a Wiccan name? Have you gone sky-cladding? Are you in the outer or the inner circle? Have you used blood in your rituals? Have you ever called forth a familiar spirit?

The fact is, magic does not work.

After all the talk about the “power” that people can get from magic, I have never known a more powerless group of people.

2 Many of those who use magic are sick all the time. They go through multiple marriages. They have money problems. Their cars get flat tires. They get their share of flus and colds. Even more seriously, they cannot beat their own drug or sex addiction. They are usually in bondage and totally powerless to change their life for the better.

If magic really worked, they would never be sick. They would win every horse race in town! They would own Wall Street by now! They would be able to maintain a successful marriage. Witches would be picking the winning lottery numbers every week.

But the fact is, when the “rubber meets the road,” magic simply does not work. You can waste a lot of money and time on magic and be no better off. In fact, you will end up worse off.

A magical worldview is internally contradictory.

- To say, “There are no absolutes” is to give an absolute. To say, “Do what thou wilt, this is the whole of the law” has been used to justify everything from black magic to human sacrifice.
- If there are no standards, then on what grounds can witches condemn child abuse, Hitler, murder, etc? They can’t.
- To say “Everything is relative” and “There is no evil,” and then to turn around and say that Christianity is “evil” is contradictory.
- To say, “Everyone has the right to believe what they want” and then to condemn Christians for what they believe is contradictory.

A magical view of life does not correspond to reality.

- The claim of modern witches that they are reviving pre-Christian paganism is not historically true. The rituals and beliefs of modern day magic are of recent origin.
- A magical view of life breeds irresponsibility. Instead of taking responsibility for their life, those who use magic always blame “bad luck” or claim that someone is using black magic against them. The truth is that YOU are responsible for the choices you make in life, not magic.
- Wiccans live in constant fear of the powers they draw down. Hence they need the occult protection of the circles, towers, shields, charms, etc. If you depend upon trinkets such as pentagrams to protect you, you do not have any real power.
